Fears single benefit payment will increase financial abuse

By Owen Hughes

FEARS have been raised about the effect of a new benefits system on people in abusive relationships.

Universal Credit will combine housing benefit and job seekers allowance into one monthly payment and is expected to affect thousands of people across Basingstoke and Deane.

But domestic abuse charity Women's Aid has criticised the means-tested benefit saying it risks further financial abuse for its clients by paying money for couples into a single household account.

Chief executive Katie Ghose said: "Universal Credit was not designed with survivors' safety in mind.

"We know from our research into the impact of Universal Credit that it risks exacerbating financial abuse for survivors and poses an additional barrier to survivors' ability to escape the abuse."

Katie added that although victims of domestic abuse can apply for 'alternative payment arrangements', survivors "may be at risk of further abuse" and urged the government to "invest in domestic abuse training".

A Department for Work and Pensions spokesperson said: "Abuse in any form is completely unacceptable, and Jobcentre Plus staff do everything they can to make sure people fleeing domestic abuse get the help they need as quickly as possible."

Fantastic fascinators and divine dresses impressed guests at the Ladies of Wellington Boot Club fashion gala with £6,000 raised for charity.
More than 120 guests attended the sparkling evening at Audleys Wood donating nearly £3,000 on the night in aid of The Pink Place, Cardiac Rehab – Alton and Hope for Justice charities.
Barclays Bank supported the event with their matched 'pound for pound' initiative doubling the effort to £6,000.
The gala theme was special occasion wear, with a fashion show supplied by Honeysuckle and Slaters Menswear in Basingstoke.
A dazzling display of 82 outfits, plus 50 hats and fascinators were showcased by 17 volunteer models.
Event organiser Marina Wooldridge of Honeysuckle Interiors said: "The success of the evening was down to a huge team effort – there was so much to co-ordinate."

Building ideas to resolve the housing crisis

BASINGSTOKE played house for a debate last week as experts tried to solve the town's housing crisis.

Archaeology experts from MOLA hosted a panel discussion with influential developers, consultants and house builders at its Basingstoke base on Thursday last week.

Specialists debated the pressures on smaller towns like Basingstoke that sit within easy reach of big cities such as London to develop housing quickly and affordably.

The panel addressed the question: How can the development sector and those regulating it tackle these issues?

The debate took place at the MOLA offices in Basingstoke and was chaired by the organisation's CEO Janet Miller.

She said: "As archaeologists, we see patterns of continuity and change in housing both past and present so it's exciting to be able to bring together a panel of experts to talk about housing issues."

Basingstoke MP Maria Miller also appeared at the event to introduce the debate.

Mrs Miller said: "It was wonderful to attend the event at MOLA and hear their vision for heritage being an integral part in the development of communities.

"I very much look forward to seeing how the charity can work with developers and the community here in Basingstoke and other parts of Hampshire."

Working to fight fraud

By Owen Hughes

FAKE online auctions, bogus tech support requests and social media hackers have made Hampshire the sixth most targeted county in the UK for online scams.

Hampshire County Council's Trading Standards received numerous reports about people in Basingstoke who had been scammed by fraudsters.

A report by internet service provider TalkTalk revealed Hampshire is the sixth most targeted county for online cons with 4,105 cases during the same period.

Online shopping and auctions (2,023 cases), computer software service fraud (1,505), email/social media hacks (280), personal computer hacks (236) and extortion (61) were the most popular forms of fraud.

Detective Sergeant Sarah Dring, from Hampshire Constabulary's economic crime unit, said: "There has been a fall in reporting for Hampshire in contrast to the national trend for the past year's figures, with a three per cent decrease.

"The Economic Crime Unit actively supports vulnerable victims of this type of offending, and the impact of the force's Prevent and Protect campaigns to tackle these offences has been recognised."

Hampshire Constabulary launched Operation Signature in January 2016 as a dedicated response to dealing with vulnerable victims of fraud and scams, making more than 2,000 visits.

According to crime prevention advisor Sarah Cohen, some Basingstoke residents might not even realise they are victims of a fraud.

Quick hits such as cold calls from bogus tech support teams remotely accessing computers, or sustained frauds such as romance or investment scams, can often go unnoticed.

She said: "Fraud is a highly sophisticated crime, and the fraudsters are very good at what they do, which is why people don't always realise what is happening.

"We do find that people 'don't want to waste police time' or 'make a fuss', and it is this hesitant approach that allows the fraudsters to continue."

In the past 18 months, Hampshire Constabulary has invested in a new Cyber Protect role and Digital Investigation team working in partnership with local authorities and agencies to prevent cyber-enabled scams and hacks.

Cyber protect officer Lucy Dibdin said: "We are at the start of the journey and making lots of positive progress."

People with concerns should call 101 quoting Operation Signature.

Aldi proposal for brownfield site

GERMAN supermarket giants ALDI could bring a disused Basingstoke brownfield site back into use creating up to 40 jobs.

The former Budgens site on Winklebury Way has been identified as the ideal location for the new ALDI store and the organisation is now seeking feedback from residents before finalising plans.

Subject to planning permission, the ALDI store would bring the vacant council-owned land back into use for the community.

Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council agreed a deal with the major supermarket chain to set up shop in Winklebury earlier this year with councillor John Izett, cabinet member for property and development saying bringing new investment to the area is a high priority for the council.

He added: "It is important council-owned land is used in a way that benefits the area and these proposals would mean a much improved building and bring in rents to contribute towards council services."

In January, an ALDI spokesperson said the company was "delighted to be progressing plans" and the new store "will give local people more shopping choice".

Residents can find further details and submit feedback on the proposals online at: https://bit.ly/2IhIvKo or by calling Planning Potential on 0117 2141820 or email winkleburywayaldi@planningpotential.co.uk

Leader re-elected

CABINET members re-elected councillor Clive Sanders as the Leader of Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council for a four-year term.

Cllr Sanders, who has been Leader since 2012, said: "I am very proud to be re-elected, especially at such an exciting time when we are taking great strides forward."

The rest of the cabinet, chosen at a meeting on May 10, remains the same, with Cllr Terri Reid continuing as Deputy Leader.

Family's support for a haven to help young cancer patients

By Owen Hughes

Rae Foster with older brothers Noah and Aidan

A BASINGSTOKE family is backing a charity's appeal to transform a former bed and breakfast into a haven for young people with cancer.

The Foster family stayed in CLIC Sargent's 'home from home' for free while their daughter, Rae, underwent gruelling cancer treatment in 2016.

The charity has now launched a fundraising appeal to transform a former Hampshire bed and breakfast into a new space for young cancer patients and their families to stay during treatment.

Jean's House in Southampton will open in autumn and provide free accommodation for young cancer patients and their families at nearby specialist Southampton Hospital.

It will replace the existing home from home at CLIC Haven in the grounds of the hospital, where the Foster family stayed during Rae's treatment.

Rae, who is almost two, was diagnosed with an infant form of leukaemia when she was only five months old and has undergone chemotherapy and lumbar punctures.

Dad David said: "The first three months were a blur, it was such a massive shock.

"Cancer was not something we expected it to be. We thought initially she had an enlarged spleen that would need removing.

"CLIC Haven made a huge difference to our family and helped us with a sense of normality there.

"With my sons, Riley, Aidan and Noah, it was so important to spend time as a family with my wife Aimee and Rae.

"Without the house, I can't imagine how difficult it would have been, I really don't know what we would have done without it.

"I really hope that everyone in Basingstoke backs this appeal because it is a lifeline to families like ours who have their world turned upside down."

Southampton Council granted planning permission for the transformation of the former bed and breakfast in October.

More than £1.2m has already been raised through donors including Children with Cancer UK, Signet and Sir Jules Thorne Charitable Trust but CLIC Sargent need to raise the remaining £400,000 to complete the renovation.

Fundraising manager Liz Blunt said the public's support could transform the property "into a welcoming haven for families like the Fosters".

SWAG meeting to air views on service stations and homes plan

CAMPAIGNERS battling proposed developments in southwest Basingstoke are inviting the community to a public meeting later this month.

The South West Action Group (SWAG) is opposed to two potential applications for motorway service areas on the M3 and plans for 6,700 new homes in Basingstoke over the next decade.

Geoff Burnes from Basingstoke SWAG said: "We are concerned that, despite massive government funding, inadequate planning for things like roads, public transport, doctors' surgeries and schools is being carried out.

"As a result, the impact of these and the projected 4,000 to 5,000 more that will be built in the area after 2030 will be severe."

At the meeting, a panel of experts will discuss housing issues in the area in addition to proposals for two new motorway service areas between Junction 6 and Junction 7 of the M3 near Basingstoke.

The panel will include representatives of Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council and Hampshire County Council, Linden Homes and the local Care Commissioning Group.

Mr Burnes added: "A capacity audience is expected, and it promises to be a lively session."

The public meeting will take place on May 31 at 7pm in the Hatch Warren Community Centre.

Thousands face change to benefit payment

The spokesman added: "There's no evidence paying into one account increases the risk of domestic violence. Previous legacy benefits such as housing and child benefits were also paid to one account."

Basingstoke MP Maria Miller said she was "pleased" that Universal Credit was being rolled out in Basingstoke and will keep in touch with Jobcentre Plus to follow "how this progresses locally".

She added: "Under Universal Credit, support worth up to 86 per cent of childcare costs is now available regardless of hours worked, significantly higher than the support that was available under tax credits."

Citizens Advice Basingstoke chief executive Graham Hatcher said: "Universal Credit is the biggest-ever change to the benefit system, so it's important people get support while they get used to it. If people have a question they should get in touch with us at the earliest opportunity so unnecessary delays or complications can be avoided."

The borough council and benefits experts are hosting a free drop-in session today (Thursday) from 10am to 2pm at Basingstoke Discovery Centre.

Councillor Hannah Golding said: "We're encouraging people to seek help at the earliest opportunity and hope this drop-in will provide information residents need to be prepared for the roll-out."

Youngsters strike a pose at fashion show

By Owen Hughes

BASINGSTOKE fashionistas flocked to Festival Place for a catwalk extravaganza during the Love Fashion Weekend last month.

Models strutted down the catwalk to showcase fashion trends for spring and summer as hundreds of shoppers gathered to watch the hour-long show.

Choreographed catwalk shows took place throughout the day, featuring models wearing designs from brands in Festival Place.

Among the catwalk models were youngsters Kian and Alarah K.A.

Kian said: "I had an absolutely amazing time and loved it.

"I would like to do it again one day. I loved all the clothes and now want to go and buy everything that I wore."

Alarah said: "I was very excited to be a part of the fashion show. It was so much fun."

Festival Place marketing manager Emily Palmer said: "Our Love Fashion weekend is always one of the highlights of our calendar and this year's event didn't disappoint.

"It was two days of fashion fun that was a great opportunity for people to find out about the latest trends and get creative as they personalised their perfect outfits.

"We have such a wide range of fashion brands at Festival Place that there was something for everyone. The event was the perfect way to give people inspiration and ideas on what to wear this spring and summer."

Participating retailers included Topshop, Topman, Laura Ashley, USC, Next, Jack & Jones, Debenhams, M&S, Apricot, Oasis, Monsoon, Quiz, Skechers, River Island, Slaters, Moss Bros, Superdry, Phase 8, Pandora and GAP.

Love Fashion Weekend is one of a series of events scheduled at Festival Place during the coming year.

New mayor can't wait to meet people

BASINGSTOKE and Deane's new mayor councillor Sean Keating is keen to meet as many people in the borough as possible in his year in office.

Cllr Keating was passed the chain of office from Cllr Paul Frankum at a council meeting on Thursday last week with the official mayor-making ceremony taking place today.

Cllr Diane Taylor will be Basingstoke and Deane's deputy mayor for 2018/9.

The new mayor has been a councillor in South Ham since 2000 and will be joined by his wife Gwen as mayoress.

Born in Blarney, Co Cork, Ireland, Cllr Keating jokes that he kissed the legendary Blarney Stone before coming to England at the age of 17 in search of work.

Cllr Keating said: "I'm going to enjoy being the borough's mayor.

"I love talking to people, and that's why I've chosen to support three 'people' charities this year – Mencap, Basingstoke NeighbourCare and Naomi House & Jacksplace.

"They cover a whole spectrum of people – from children to the elderly, and those with physical and mental difficulties – and meet the needs of many."

The former trade union official moved to Basingstoke in 1983 before retiring at 52 with ill health.

Mayor of Basingstoke and Deane Cllr Sean Keating and mayoress Gwen Keating are looking forward to their year

Rewarding diversity of Hampshire countryside

SUBMISSIONS for this year's Countryside Awards are being sought from Basingstoke residents for a new title decided by the public.

Basingstoke groups, individuals or organisations who share CPRE's values can submit nominations for the awards before the May 31 deadline.

The awards have a diverse range of categories, including community and volunteer, young people, making spaces and rural enterprise.

CPRE Hampshire chief executive Charlee Bennett said: "For the first time this year we are also introducing The Hampshire's Choice Award – voted for by the public. We are really looking forward to seeing the submissions and hearing from the public about which project they want to win in Hampshire's Choice."

The public will have a month to vote on which of the finalists should win £500 to support their work.

HEALTH and care workers in Basingstoke were presented with special certificates during an event to celebrate their contribution to NHS services in the community.

Basingstoke MP Maria Miller joined former mayor and mayoress of Basingstoke and Deane, Cllr Paul Frankum and Cllr Jane Frankum, at the event on May 8 in the mayor's parlour at the Civic Offices.

Certificates were presented to all the local health and care workers Mrs Miller has nominated for national awards to mark the 70th anniversary of the NHS.

The NHS 70 Parliamentary Awards recognise the contributions made by individuals and teams who work in and alongside the NHS.

■ Dr Tanuj Lad's Ambulatory Care Unit at Basingstoke Hospital for the Excellence in Urgent and Emergency Care Award.

■ Sue Martin, who runs the Six Steps Programme at St Michael's Hospice, for the Excellence in Primary Care Award.

■ Paul Hutton, who leads the Community Palliative Care Team at St Michael's Hospice, for the Person-Centred Care Champion Award.

Maria Miller MP nominated various individuals and teams for the NHS 70 Parliamentary Awards

Mrs Miller said: "I am proud to be taking part in the NHS 70 Parliamentary Awards as a way of thanking and recognising the wonderful people who work in or support our local NHS and care services. All of the nominees I have put forward make a remarkable contribution to the community, with many of them innovators and trailblazers in their fields."

NHS judges will announce regional champions in each category on May 21. Overall winners will then go on to a special awards ceremony in Parliament on July 4.

£1,700 fine for dumping waste

A Basingstoke fly-tipper who illegally dumped waste in Popley last year has been served with a fine and legal costs totalling more than £1,700.

Stevie Luckens from Dryden Close, Basingstoke, pleaded guilty to depositing a number of household waste items in Dryden Close, Popley, on or before September 5.

Items that the 23-year-old illegally fly-tipped include a bike, a doll's house and chairs.

Luckens appeared at Basingstoke Magistrates' Court on May 3 where she was ordered to pay a £690 fine, £1024.34 in legal costs and a £69 victim surcharge.

Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council's interim head of environmental services Tom Payne said: "We take fly-tipping in our borough very seriously and this demonstrates the courts do too.

"Environmental crime, such as the illegal dumping of waste, costs this council thousands of pounds of taxpayers' money each year.

"It is not acceptable to dump waste and we will continue our enforcement work and, where appropriate, prosecute offenders and stamp out this inconsiderate act."

It is a criminal offence if a resident's rubbish ends up being fly-tipped, even if they don't know it will be.

Basingstoke and Deane residents should report illegally dumped waste on the council website at: http://bit.ly/2tSkoLP

Hospital's new unit to boost patient care

By Owen Hughes

BASINGSTOKE Hospital celebrated the opening a new unit last week with the aid of a special guest.

HM Lord-Lieutenant of Hampshire, Nigel Atkinson Esq, cut the ribbon to unveil the new extended Ambulatory Care Unit at Basingstoke and North Hampshire Hospital.

Mr Atkinson was welcomed to the hospital by outgoing mayor and mayoress of Basingstoke and Deane, councillors Paul and Jane Frankum, chief executive of Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust Alex Whitfield, and Felicity Greene, chief executive of North Hampshire Urgent Care based at Basingstoke Hospital.

The unit was first conceived more than three years ago by consultant Dr Tanuj Lad and his team.

The concept provides same day medical assessment and discharge for patients who may otherwise have been admitted through the Emergency Department or Acute Assessment Unit.

Patient flow throughout the hospital is improved as a result of the additional unit, as well as improving patients' experience and the outcome of their care.

Speaking at the event, Dr Lad said: "The unit has trebled in size since it was first opened, allowing us to provide outstanding care and create capacity around the hospital.

"I'd like to thank our patients for the excellent feedback they provided for the unit, it allowed us to keep them at the centre of the unit's development."

Basingstoke Hospital first provided ambulatory care in December 2015.

The service would typically see an average of 40 patients a month.

The model proved to be so successful that building work began 13 months later to provide an extension.

This new unit will enable the hospital to now see an average of 250 to 300 patients a month.

Chairman of Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, Elizabeth Padmore, said: "I'd like to thank and congratulate all of the staff for their continued hard work in opening and running the unit.

"It's the vision our clinicians such as Dr Lad and the hard work of his team and all of our staff, that mean we can continue to implement developments like this, that help us to improve patient care, which is at the heart of everything we do."

Picture perfect new photography store

HAPPY snappers in Basingstoke will be able to set their creative sides free as a new-look store opens in Castle Square.

Jessops Basingstoke reopened on May 4 revealing a colourful new environment for experienced and beginner photographers as camera displays made way for 'creativity corners'.

Fully trained Jessops 'photosmiths' based in the store will help customers create and print works of art from their pictures, whether they were snapped on a camera or phone.

Jessops retail director Scott Worger said he was "incredibly excited about the reopening".

He said: "More than 95 million photos are uploaded to Instagram each day, yet we keep forgetting to print them.

"Our Basingstoke store is now essentially 'split' in two; half will feature interactive displays of hardware offerings one might expect from Jessops, and the other will focus on gifting and printing."

The renovated shop will offer colourful frames and smart-looking albums, as well as fun personalised gifts that customers can print their faces on.

Photos can be printed onto everything from blankets and cushions to more traditional scrapbooks and photo albums.

"Whether you are looking for the latest DSLR camera or a gift under £10, our team of expert and friendly staff are on hand to help," Scott added.

Warning over dogs in hot cars

MAN'S best friend is unlikely to reciprocate the friendship in Hampshire after 17 dogs locked in hot cars were reported in just three days.

Animal welfare charity the RSPCA received more calls about dogs "in hot environments" during the hottest early May Bank Holiday weekend on record than in any other county in England.

The mercury rose to above 28°C in parts of the UK, enough to cause serious distress or even kill a dog trapped in a hot place, such as a car, conservatory or caravan.

RSPCA campaign manager Holly Barber said: "Many people think it will be fine just to leave their pets for a minute or two but we know that this is all it takes for temperatures inside a car to soar to dangerous levels.

"Our main advice to owners is not to leave dogs in cars and our main advice to passers-by is to call 999 if they're concerned about an animal in a hot environment."

In 2017, only Greater London reported more cases to the RSPCA (626) than Hampshire (387).

No other county in England reported more than 270 instances to the RSCPA throughout the whole of last year.

The RSPCA received 17 calls about cars stuck in hot environments over the bank holiday weekend

Make sure you know data rule

SMALL businesses in Basingstoke are warned not to get caught out by new data regulations that come into effect next week.

Basingstoke-based company The Data Support Agency claims many businesses don't know how to tackle looming pressure to be GDPR compliant by May 25.

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is a new EU regulation to better protect people's personal data held by businesses and public sector organisations.

Nicola Hartland, chief executive of The Data Support Agency, said: "We've spoken to hundreds of owners and managers of small businesses over the past few months.

"Everyone knows that they have to do something, but it's a huge concern that many people still don't even know how to get started."

Nicola set up Chineham Park based The Data Support Agency in 2017 to help provide GDPR support specifically for small businesses.

The managed service includes access to an online portal that provides guidance through all the stages required to achieve and maintain compliance.

Having designs on mental health

By Owen Hughes

YOUNG people in Basingstoke are drawing a line through the stigma of mental health after launching an art competition.

To mark Mental Health Awareness Week this week (May 14 to 20), the Hampshire and Isle of Wight Youth Commission is launching an art campaign for anyone under 25.

The 'draw a line through stigma' competition invites young people to create a postcard size image that represents mental health to them.

The artwork can be a drawing, painting, computer drawn image, words, photo, created in textiles or whatever form allows entrants to express what mental health means to them.

Each year, the Youth Commission consults with thousands of young people to find out about their concerns and come up with ideas to help address them.

Almost half of those consulted chose mental health as the issue young people consider most important above other issues such as cyber safety.

Michael Asante from the Youth Commission said: "Our consultation findings have highlighted the urgent need to educate young people on mental health and illnesses from an early age.

"This postcard campaign will take a big step in finding out how much young people know about mental health, as well as reducing the stigma behind the topic."

Comments received through the consultation show that there remains a stigma around mental health and young people feel mental health conditions can be difficult to recognise.

Young people also said they need to be taken seriously and not feel judged for seeking help, according to the findings.

Other comments suggest that an increased promotion of available help and how to access it is required.

Police and Crime Commissioner for Hampshire, Michael Lane, said: "This competition will help to raise awareness and I hope attract a wide range of entries that will give additional insight and help lead to better understanding as well as contribute to reducing the stigma associated with mental health."

The competition is open until September 30 with the winning postcard sized image made into a poster to reduce the stigma of mental health. The artist will win a voucher.

Basingstoke named as one of the top five towns best for buy-to-let investors

The lettings landscape is changing and with more people renting than ever before, there's still significant demand for rental property, particularly in the South East.

By Romans Group

With dreams of home ownership taking longer to achieve, rental homes are now long term residencies - great news for buy-to-let investors!

40% of tenants expect to spend up to a decade in rental accommodation and as a result things such as commuting distance, local schools, nightlife and restaurants in the local area are becoming a must have. All of these amenities increase the reported life satisfaction of the town's residence and contribute to the demand for property in that area.

Looking into both the increase in property values, rental income and life satisfaction of the town's residents, we've tipped these five towns as the 2018 investment hot spots:

Oakley Hall Hotel are delighted to announce the opening of their brand new Garden Pavilion.

With a glass of chilled Champagne and the sound of smooth jazz, the tone of the event was set. Guests enjoyed roaming canapés and bowl food while networking or taking in the blissful countryside setting of Oakley Hall Hotel. If Champagne wasn't to the guests liking, the selection of tempting cocktails on tab and complimentary chocolate tasting certainly did the trick!

With a cheerful introduction, guest hosts Matt & Michelle from Heart Radio welcomed the crowd to the venue and to the grand launch of the Garden Pavilion. Managing Director, Frank Fogarty then took centre stage to officially mark the opening with the cutting of the ribbon. Once cut, the stage flooded with confetti and the sound of applause from the audience. An unforgettable moment that was perfectly captured by photographer Jacques Lloyd, Real Simple Photography.

Guests were then invited to explore the rest of the estate, or to soak in the sun and the glorious surroundings on the Garden Pavilion Terrace while enjoying one more cocktail... or two!

Talking about their up and coming tour, Oti said: "I'm really excited, it's my very first tour and I can't wait to get into a project that I believe in 100% that I will head jointly with Ian from beginning to the end.

"I love choreographing, the audience can expect an intimate evening where they get to know both Ian and myself personally.

"They will share the love of dance that we have with amazing dancing and entertainment of course."

Exploring political and personal views

By Josh Cox

ONE of the most controversial topics over recent years comes, in the form of theatre, to The Phoenix in Bordon next month.

Her Majesty's Naval Base Clyde, or Faslane, situated 40 miles outside Glasgow, is home to the UK's nuclear missile programme, Trident.

With her family having worked in Faslane all her life, and with friends protesting at the gates, director, writer and actor Jenna Watt explores what happens when the personal and political collide.

Drawing upon interviews with individuals at the front line of the nuclear debate, Jenna navigates her own journey through the politics, protests and peace camps in this multi-award-winning show.

Her work uncovers the answers to the questions we should all be asking about our nuclear deterrent and invites audiences to contemplate the programme in detail.

The UK tour follows directly on from taking the Fringe First Award at Edinburgh Festival Fringe and winning the Summerhall Lustrum award. British Theatre Guide raved about the show, saying "an extraordinary piece of documentary theatre. Always engaging, impressively entertaining and often surprisingly funny".

Outside of Faslane, Jenna creates small to mid-scale multi-disciplinary theatre works that combine the practice of live art and more traditional theatrical forms, and is best known for creating works that explore sociopolitical issues.

As a director, Jenna predominantly directs new writing by young people and emerging writers.

She has amassed a huge portfolio over the past 10 plus years and worked with companies including; The National Theatre of Scotland, Traverse Theatre, Magnetic North, Royal Conservatoire of Scotland, Unlimited Theatre and Northern Stage.

Faslane will be performed on June 1 at 7.30pm. Tickets are £12.

For more information or to book, call The Phoenix box office on 01420 472 664 or email info@phoenixarts.co.uk.

WIN tickets to Highclere Castle for the 100th Battle Proms Concert!

Closing date: Friday July 20, 2018

Pack up the hampers and champers and join thousands of loyal fans for an exceptional afternoon and evening of entertainment, as The Battle Proms returns to Highclere on Saturday 4 August, marking the 100th Battle Proms concert since they began over 20 years ago!

Enjoy a full 2 hour programme of captivating classical music from a 60 piece orchestra that opens with a breathtaking musical Spitfire display, plus toe-tapping vintage vocals, dramatic WWI cavalry display, and groundshaking live fire from over 200 cannons!

In a very special addition to their 100th concert programme, the Battle Proms team are delighted to announce that The Red Devils – the British Army and Parachute Regiment's official display team – will be making a dramatic entrance as they perform their daring freefall display in the skies above the concert, reaching speeds of up to 120mph demonstrating their world-famous canopy formations!

All taking place on the lawns overlooking the 'Real Downton Abbey', this quintessentially British 'party in the park' features magnificent musical firework displays, culminating in a flag waving, sing-a-long spectacular including all the 'last night of the proms' finale favourites such as Jerusalem, Rule Britannia and Land of Hope and Glory.

Win tickets!

We have 3 pairs of tickets to give away to this spectacular concert! To enter just answer the following simple question:

Q: How fast can the Red Devils freefall?

Don't want to leave it to chance? For full details and to book tickets for this spectacular and memorable night out go to www.battleproms.com.

ALDI

BRINGING EVERYDAY AMAZING TO WINKLEBURY WAY

ALDI has wanted to open a neighbourhood store in Basingstoke for some time, and is delighted to have identified the former Budgens site on Winklebury Way as a suitable location.
There's a lot to Like...

- A significant investment by ALDI would bring a vacant, brownfield site back into beneficial economic use.
- A new store would lead to the creation of up to 40 new jobs, which ALDI would actively seek to recruit from the local area.
- ALDI is attracting hundreds of thousands of new customers every year with its award-winning range of exclusive brands, passing low operating costs on to customers in the form of low prices.
- ALDI is the highest ranked supermarket in the Institute of Customer Services' UK Customer Satisfaction Index 2017.
- ALDI is the lowest priced supermarket in the UK and 15.2% cheaper than its nearest competitor (The Grocer 33, published 24th August 2017).

We are hoping to submit a planning application to Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council as soon as possible and are inviting feedback from local residents before we finalise the plans. You can see more details and provide feedback at https://www.aldiconsult.co.uk/winkleburyway/
You can also provide feedback by calling Planning Potential on 0117 214 1820 or emailing winkleburywayaldi@planningpotential.co.uk .

Volkswagen Take UP! 1.0 litre 60PS – 5 door

You'll want to Take UP! one of these

By Tony Yates

The VW UP! is a great little car for doing the school run and for all those times when you need to nip into town to do a little retail therapy. Or, if you're like me, then you will be the local taxi into town because it's the only family vehicle that's really capable of fitting inside those tight city centre parking spaces.

Power & efficiency

The version I had on test was a 5 door Take UP! which was fitted with a 3 cylinder 999cc 60PS petrol engine and is still one of the best units I have come across in my opinion. Yes, I know pretty much every manufacturer now has a 3 cylinder engine available in their range, but I still think the VW unit is the better one by a mile.

Out on the open road I managed to achieve 60mpg as long as I didn't drive it like I stole it. Of course, I could tell you that the UP! will max out at 101mph, but to be honest, it wasn't built for speed, so you are probably not that interested. But, if you do fancy a race from 0-62, then expect to be waiting around for about14.4sec for that to happen.

So, with its 999cc engine, you'd expect it to be slow right? Well, actually it nips around the city in a rush and it doesn't really feel underpowered at all truth be told. Plus I recently had to take my children on a weekend camping trip to Ross-on-Wye (why the sun was finally out) meaning it was full to bursting with all our camping gear, but still – the little UP! just kept on going.

On the road

The little UP! is a scream – it's easy to drive and feels brilliant for such a small car. I own a Fiat 500 and I have to say that the little UP! Is as good as the little Fiat – if not that little bit better out on the road, because it's less 'bouncy'. Remember though, this is not a hot hatch; it's an eco-warrior that was designed to save you money as well as being stylish. As for the handling, I decided I would give it four out of five stars because it's as good as the competition when the road gets nice and twisty.

Design & technology

The interior is a little on the bland side – but it's functional, and I like the body coloured dash panel and the centre speedo which gives it a better feel on the inside. Although the seats do feel a little deckchair like, then again, they do hold you firm and that's the main thing here.

There's also an array of kit inside such as; DAB radio, electric front windows, 3.1" monochrome screen, SD card reader, halogen clear headlights, LED daytime running lights, power assisted steering, remote central locking, height adjustable three-spoke steering wheel. This list may look a little basic, but remember this was only the Take-UP! specification. If you want to go all out, then I suggest you take a look at the new UP! GTi version which costs less than 14k (3 door version)

When it comes to safety features, the UP! comes equipped with; ABS (Anti-lock Braking System), driver's and front passenger's airbags, side head/thorax airbag system for front passengers, ESC (Electronic Stability Control) including Hill Hold function.

To sum up

There is no doubt in my mind that VW UP! will live with you for a very long time and you will instantly replace it with another when the time is right. To be honest it's like your secret little friend that will make you feel happy every time you turn the key.

Priced from £9,725.

DVLA
Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

ALSO BREAKING 500 CARS ALL PARTS AVAILABLE

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk.motoring

Captain Connolly skates off

By Owen Hughes

CAPTAIN 'fantastic' Aaron Connolly has followed head coach Doug Sheppard out of the Basingstoke Bison door after five years with the club.

A club statement announced the departure of the trophy treble-winning captain at the same time as revealing defenceman Dan Scott also departs the NIHL South 1 and play-off champions.

Both players were crucial to the Herd's historic season on the ice as Bison charged to the title keeping six shutouts and racking up 26 wins.

Leading goalscorer Connolly and defenceman Scott were both presented with the Players' Player award in April.

Departing captain Connolly said it had been "an honour" to "pull the Bison colours on" over the last five years and leaves the club to move closer to his family.

He said: "I leave this wonderful club with the most amazing memories that will last a lifetime.

"I can't begin to thank all the fans for everything they have done to support me and make my time in Basingstoke so enjoyable.

"Of course, my time with the Bison would not have been the same without the boys I had the pleasure to play alongside, Shep and the team staff.

"The friendships I have made along this journey I will always be grateful for.

"I am looking forward to the next chapter in my life and hockey career, I hope our paths all cross again soon.

"It's been a hell of a ride."

A spokesperson for the club said: "The Bison would like to thank both Aaron and Dan for their contribution to the club and we wish them well in their future endeavours.

"Clearly the past week has been eventful for the club with the unexpected departure of Doug Sheppard and discussions are ongoing with several potential replacements.

"As soon as we are able to provide an update we will."

The club also moved to allay fans' fears about the budget for the forthcoming NIHL season, confirming the playing budget had not been slashed.

An annual league meeting will take place on Sunday at which point Bison will announce details on season tickets.

Medal successes for athletics club in county champs

BASINGSTOKE athletes found success on the track at the county championships last weekend earning a haul of 46 medals.

More than 80 athletes from Basingstoke and Mid Hants Athletics Club competed at the Hampshire County Championship with 12 members taking gold.

Ben Pattison was the standout performer on Saturday triumphing in the 200m with a time of 22.02, moving up to number two in the UK rankings.

There was a clean sweep for the club athletes in the Under 20 women's 400m as Rebecca Bullock took gold with team mates Lydia Sommers and Amber Clare winning silver and bronze.

GB Juniors athlete Mair Edwards won gold in the 100m (U20) while Ayomide Cole won in the 100m race.

In the Sunday sunshine, Ayomide Cole moved up to number four in the UK after winning gold in the 200m in a time of 25.53 in her first year as an Under 15, with Izzy Pinder picking up silver.

Catherine Edwards added to her gold from the 300m by winning silver in the Under 17 category just before her sister, Mair, won gold in the U20 age group.

Other golds included James Beeks (1500m (Senior)), Harry Richardson (800m (U20)), Emily Cornwall (long jump and high jump), Maddie Deadman (3000m (U20)) and Hannah Haugvik (hurdles (U20)).

Strong start to season with good win for Bountymen

BASINGSTOKE and North Hants Cricket Club's season started with a 77-run win in the second round of the ECB National Club Championship on Sunday.

Basingstoke won the toss at May's Bounty and captain Mitch Stokes elected to bat as his side went on to score 201 for 9 (40 overs) to Goatacre CC's 124 all out (33 overs).

George Metzger (29) and Chris Froud (39) batted first, hitting four fours between them, as their partnership took 81 before both were out for lbw.

Mitch Stokes (44) and Bradley Neal (43) upped the score to 190 for the fourth wicket but bowler Jack Haines was in impressive form taking 4-42.

Max Harsham (7) and David Griffiths (10) chipped in to further cement the Bountymen's strong start.

Goatacre struggled to mount a response as Jack Haines (13) and Ross Dixie (23) stepped up to bat only to find Martyn James (2-31) and Ashley Neal (2-8) thwarting any threat.

David Griffiths (2-29) from six overs, Mitch Stokes (1-17) from five overs and Bradley Neal (2-16) from four overs helped ensure Goatacre were all out after 33 overs.

Round three of the Championship continues on June 3 as Basingstoke host Normandy.

Cup winners Wintney

HARTLEY Wintney have been crowned Aldershot Senior Invitational Cup champions after easing past Eversley California 4-1 on Tuesday.

The Row fell behind early on at the Memorial Fields but Paul Hodges pulled the Hampshire side level.

A Dean Stow free kick made sure Hartley had a half-time lead before Nic Ciardini and a second Hodges goal secured the cup with the second half goals.

Hartley were promoted to the Southern Premier League after beating Cambridge City in the play-off final.

Promotion hopes

LEAGUE champions Basingstoke Bison Ladies took their foot off the pedal for the final game of the season against Cardiff Comets on Sunday as the visitors left Hampshire 4-2 winners.

The Welsh side were 4-0 going into the final period but two goals in just over two minutes salvaged a consolation.

Bison Ladies travel to Sheffield on May 19 and 20 hoping for promotion to the premier league through the play-offs.

Collard comes home

ROB Collard is gearing up for the return of the British Touring Car Championship to his home county of Hampshire this weekend as the racing series heads to Thruxton.

Thruxton Group managing director Bill Coombs told BTCC he is "always thrilled" to host the country's "premier four-wheeled series".

Eversley's Rob Collard sealed BMW's 100th victory in the BTCC last year and will hope to replicate that achievement on home turf.

Double ton for Vince

HAMPSHIRE batsman James Vince has missed out on England selection despite striking a sensational double-century as Hants salvaged a draw from the Specsavers County Championship match with Somerset at Taunton.

Vince went on to make 201 not out in a marathon vigil to lead his side to 432 for four.

By the time the players shook hands at 4.50pm, Vince had battled away for more than eight and a half hours, his longest ever Championship innings.

Birdies fly in for Rose on final day

World number one spot goes begging at Players

By Owen Hughes

NORTH Hampshire golfer Justin Rose missed out on the opportunity to be named England's fourth World Number One on Sunday at the Players Championship.

The former Tylney Park and Hartley Wintney member had the first chance of his 20-year career to be named the World Number One if he had won the Players Championship and if other scorecards fell in his favour.

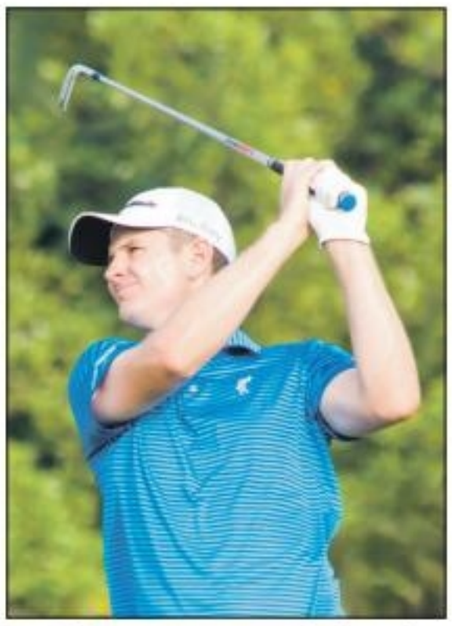
Rose's slim hopes of taking top spot might not have come to fruition but the former Robert May's pupil enjoyed a positive outing at Sawgrass.

Rose equalled a tournament record when he became the ninth player in tournament history to card six consecutive birdies.

The Englishman was 16 shots adrift of runaway leader Webb Simpson on the final day, who became the eighth player to achieve six consecutive birdies two days earlier.

Rose hit 13 of 14 fairways and 14 of 18 greens in regulation finishing nine under for the tournament.

The Hampshire golfer signed off in style on the final day with a six-under



Justin Rose put in a strong final round to card six back-to-back birdies but couldn't pull enough back to catch winner Webb Simpson

66, tied for 23rd at nine under on the Players Championship leader board below compatriots Tommy Fleetwood (T7) and Ian Poulter (T11).

Rose reached the green in two and sank a sub one-foot putt for the birdie on the 423-yard par-4 first hole, but missed his birdie putt from 13 feet on the 532-yard par-5 second to finish with a 3-putt par.

On the 237-yard par-3 eighth, Rose managed a two-putt bogey after sending his tee shot 201 yards to the left greenside bunker and his sand shot 19 yards to the green.

The Olympic gold medallist hit a birdie on the 583-yard par 5 ninth and reached the green in two before sinking a sub one-foot putt for birdie on the 424-yard par-4 10th hole to move two under for the round.

His third under-par hole in a row on the 558-yard par-5 11th was swiftly followed by his fourth on the 302-yard par-4 12th and a fifth on the 181-yard par-3 13th.

Rose matched the tournament record for six consecutive birdies when after reaching the green in two on the 481-yard par-4 14th hole and sinking a 33-inch putt for birdie on the 523-yard par-5 16th.

A bogey on the 462-yard par-4 18th with two putting after reaching the green in three moved the 2013 US Open Champion to six under for the round.

Despite fighting back Rose finished nine shots behind Simpson whose 18 under for the four days won him the title.
